

All companies need to train their staff. It is vital in an ever-growing competitive market to make sure the employees are developing in the right direction and one way to achieve this is to continuously train them in needed areas.

In cooperation with SIA Diverto, PRIME can offer the sales course 'Why Does the Client BUY?' as well as holistic analyses to provide an understanding of what will make your company tick even better!

Diverto owner, Dzintars Lusionis says: "We transfer knowledge into value for our customers by identifying their needs and providing innovative and value-adding solutions. We want to be our customers' unique partner. Client requirements drive our actions. Whether you require a business strategy development, change management assistance, operations improvement, asset restructuring, project development or complete financial modeling, we can help!"
